

K2 Brake pads and linings

Non-asbestos-Z (No hardening required/Rotor temperature range 30 to 700 degrees) material Racing pads that were born and bred on the circuit! You can sense the quality from the moment you lightly place your foot on the pedal. The excellent response and effectiveness will raise the limit of your driving the more you drive. There is also very little change in braking due to rotor temperature, which always leads to stable driving. The accumulation of test data has made K2Z material a true performer. If you are a user who is committed to winning, you will be able to fully utilize its potential.
